(B? Associated Press.)

JACKSON, MISS., August 4,—Governor Vardaman to-day made public the following statement regarding the yellow fever situation:

"Everything is screene in Mississippi. Only the two sporadic cases previously reported have occurred. No embarso has been placed on merchandles from anywhere, and upon proper evidence that the holder of a health certificate has not been in an infected district for ten days, he can enter the State.

"The much talked-of armed conflict between Mississippi and Louisana might properly be described as lound and fury, and as signifying nothing, but we are pursuing resolutely the pelicy imangurated by the State Board of Health, based upon modern scientific developments to keep the fever out of this State.

New York last night, following the complaint made against his paper, the New Yorker, for a publication involving Con-yorker, for a publication involving Congressman Rhinock, of covington, ky.; Miss Alice Roosevelt, Congressman Longworth and others, led to the supposition that it was a case of suicide caused by the results of that publication.

Congressman Rhinock reached Cincinrati to-day after a brief absence. He said he was shocked by the news. "It probably was suicide," he said, "but I do not believe the charge I filed against him prompted the act, for Criswell knew there was nothing inmediate for him to fear in my case. Other affairs which the general public have not been informed of prompted the deed, I believed Criswell was sincerely sorry for the publication,"

R. S. Beville, Esq., Chairman Demogratic
County Committee, Crewe, Va.:

My Dear Sir.—While I know that your committee will only select high and honorable men to act as election officers on the day of the primary, in order that there may be no possible ground of compilant, I respectfully ask that your committee will appoint at each precinct in the county, wherever practicable, a judge of election favorable to each of my competitors. Very respectfully.

WM. HODGES MANN.

The county committee of Nottoway will provide the necessary election officers for the primary without cost to the candidates, and no irouble will be experienced in getting men of the very highest character to serve without charge. It is committee to appoint a Willard and a Swanson man at each precinct, it practicable. In several practices, however, this will not be possible, as in those prechets every voter is for Judge Marm.

Yesterday being court day an excellent opportunity was afforded to ascertain the sentiments of the people throughout the county.

Quite a fight is being made on Judge

Mann at one precinct, and at another there is some opposition; but at all the other precincts the Mann sentiment is practically unanimous. Judge Mann is very popular throughout the county, and besides the people have a strong county pride. His home county will give him a handsome majority.

DID BUREAU KNOWINGLY AID THE BEEF TRUST

Officials of Animal Industry Department Now Under Fire and Investigation Will Likely Be Made. Preventive of Hay Fever Discovered.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 4.—It country, while the Department of Justice has been and is working to break up the trust, the condition of affairs brought to light will be without a parallel in the tion of the affairs of the Department of Agriculture should take a turn which would develop that the Bureau of Industry has been engaged in practices which amount to backing up the beef trust in its efforts to gain control of the meat trade of the country. Indeed, it has already been developed that the bureau has ailed the Big Six, as Commissioner Garfield designated the six companies forming the combine, in obtaining control of the meat packing industry. It remains to be established whether the aid extended the packing combine was intentional.

extended the packing combine was intentional.

The Bureau of Animal Industry claims there is a shortage of inspectors of meat products, owing to the lack of funds with which to pay them. The result has been that the bureau has not been able to send inspectors to all the packing establishments that desired them. Complaints have been made by independent concerns that they have not been able to put their products on the market for the reason that they could not get inspectors, while inspectors were stationed at all the big establishments controlled by the Big Six. The charge is made that Dr. Salmon, head of the bureau, intentionally kept his inspectors at the big plants, and refused them to the smaller concerns, for the reason that he wanted to help along the big fellows.

There is no question that the effect of not sending inspectors to the small concerns has helped the trust. Whether it was possible to supply the demand remains to be shown. It also remains to be discovered whether the bureau officials gave aid and comfort to the trust intentionally. This fact would be pretty well established if it should be shown that there was inspectors to be had at the time they were refused applicants. This is not the first of the charges that have been made against the Bureau. Some months ago an inspector made charges against Dr. Salmon, but he did not sustain them on investigation. If it shall be established, after a thorough investigation, that the Department of Agriculture has been aiding the beef trust to to light will be without a parallel in history of the government.

The repeated assurance given the public by Secretary Wilson that he does not intend resigning from the department are taken at their full value—and they are not accepted at face value. It is not the intention of the Secretary to resign until the investigation into the conduct of the affairs of his department shall have been concluded. It is the helief of those who are the best informed regarding conditions in the department and the anairs of government generally, that Mr. ... son will retire from the cabinet when the affairs of the Department of Agriculture shall have been thoroughly overhauled and a general house-cleaning completed. He will retire without a stain upon his private character. The scandals of the Department of Agriculture of the Department of the Department of the De pleted. He will retire without a stain upon his private character. The scandals of the Department of Agriculture have not tarnished the personal hone or honesty of its head. Carclessness and over-trustfulness in the capacity and fidelity of subordinates have been Mr. Wilson's undoing.

By a process similar to that of producing the diphtheria serum, Dr. Dunbar has succeeded in producing a hayfever preventive by means of the continued vaccination of animals with the poison of pollen. There is formed in this way an anti-toxin in the blood serum of the animal which possesses the property of neutralizing the poisonous effect of the pollen in the nose and eyes of the patient.
